

KUVEMPU UNIVERSITY

THE SOCIAL SCIENCE DIALOGUE

Peer Reviewed Open Access Journal

Prasaranga, Kuvempu University

Post Covid-19 India: Challenges and Opportunities for Formal Education

Vinayaka A, Research Scholar, Department of Social work, VSK University. Ballari-583 105, Karnataka. E-mail: akkasaliv@gmail.com

Kumara, Assistant Professor, Department of Social work, VSK University. Ballari-583 105, Karnataka. E-mail: kumarvsku@gmail.com

Abstract: We all know about the covid-19 situation in many stream and angles. Everybody fights with crucial and unbelievable situation of created by covid-19 overall world. India also effect on this pandemic, prominently education and health sector most struggle in their streams. Basically Indian education system based on students and teacher oriented systems. But effect of this pandemic student and teacher's relationship and bonding of education was imbalanced. These things are very challenges to parents and teacher to fulfill student's educational needs. Present study intended to explain the impact of covid-19 on education system in India. Main objective of this study is how covid-19 effect on regular education system in India. Bring out the advantages and disadvantages of the pandemic in all sector of the society mainly focus on the Education system. Present study adopts the Exploratory Research Design for detailed study about impact Post COVID-19 India: Challenges and Opportunities for Formal Education is the collection of information from using the secondary source for framework of study. Results of the study based on learning achievements of the students. Comparing online education with classroom education, changes in education system and effect on family students and teacher also. This study overall explain how covid-19 impact on education system in India.

Key words: Communication, Personality, Attitudes, Achievements, Technology effeteness